FOR RIGHT TO DEFEND
AMERICA'S CUP

Third Race Was Scheduled to Be Over a Windward and Leeward Course

Newport, R. I., June 8.—The score was even when Vantie and Resolute started to-day on the third of the official trial races to determine the defender of the American cup. Resolute's victory on Thursday and Vantie's win yesterday placed the yachts on even terms and there was great interest on both boats over the outcome of to-day's race.

Early weather conditions were favorable. There was very little wind and a long ocean roll as a result of last week's storm. The start was set for 11 a. m. and several yachts went out with the racers to watch the event, which was scheduled to be over a windward and leeward course.

VANTIE DEFEATED RESOLUTE.

In the Second Race to Determine Cup Defender.

Newport, R. I., June 8.—Vantie defeated Resolute yesterday in the second of the official trial races to determine the defender of the American cup.

The official figures of the race gave Vantie, which led Resolute over the finish line by two minutes 20 seconds, a corrected margin of one minute 34 seconds.

The official figures posted by the regatta committee announce that the Vantie won over the Resolute in yesterday's race by one minute and 34 seconds corrected time. The official summary:

Time at Start	Time at Finish	Elapsed Time	Corrected Time
11:00:00	12:17:00	1:17:00	1:12:10
11:00:00	12:18:30	1:18:30	1:13:40

MUST DRIVE OUT WILSON CROWD

Declared Senator Lodge in Keynote Address at Chicago To-day

MUST DEFEAT WILSON'S LEAGUE PLAN

Lodge Says It Is Time for U. S. to Take Firm Hand
in Mexican Matters

Chicago, June 8.—The country must drive President Wilson and his "dynasty" from power and defeat the league of nations as he desires it, declared Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, temporary chairman of the Republican national convention, in his keynote address here to-day.

Defending the Senate's opposition to the treaty of peace as a high and patriotic duty, the senator flung down this gauntlet:

"We make the issue; we ask approval for what we have done. The people will now tell us what they think of Mr. Wilson's league and the sacrifice of America."

While emphasizing the point that around the league must be waged the fight for the United States and devoting much of his speech to arraignment of the Wilson administration, the senator found time to lay before the delegates the stand of the Republican party on other salient problems facing the nation.

Chief among these was Mexico. Declaring it was time for the United States to take a firm hand in these Mexican and end the "disgraceful record" of the last seven years, Senator Lodge urged that this country let the Mexicans choose as their president some strong and upright man who is friendly to the United States and determined to establish order and then lend him a real and cordial support.

"Mexico lies at our doors," he declared. "It is a primary duty for us to deal with it under the Monroe doctrine, but nothing has been done and yet we are asked to take a mandate for Armenia."

High Cost of Living.

"The rise in prices, the high cost of living which reach daily into every home, is the most pressing, as it is the most difficult and most essential problem which confronts us. Some of the sources of this trouble can be reached by legislation, although not all, but everything that can be affected by law should be done at once."

"Profiteering, the charging of extortionate and unjustified prices, which is stupid as well as unlawful, are subject now to ample punitive laws. Those laws should be enforced, others if necessary added, and the offenders, both great and small, should be pursued and punished."

"The most essential remedy for high costs (of living) is to keep up and increase production and particularly should every effort be made to advance the productivity of the farms."

"The phrase, 'government ownership,' means not only that the government shall own the railroads but also, it is to be feared, that those who run the railroads shall own the government. General government ownership, under our political system, would inevitably bring about the mastery of the government by those who operate the machinery of the railroads but also, it is to be feared, that those who run the railroads shall own the government. General government ownership, under our political system, would inevitably bring about the mastery of the government by those who operate the machinery of the railroads but also, it is to be feared, that those who run the railroads shall own the government."

"They must be driven from office and power, not because they are Democrats, but because Mr. Wilson stands for a theory of administration and government which is not American."

"The return of the Democrats to power with Mr. Wilson or one of his disciples still the leader and master of a great party, which before his advent possessed both traditions and principles, would be a long step in the direction of the autocracy for which Mr. Wilson yearns and a heavy blow to the continuance of free representative government as we have always conceived and venerated it."

"Mr. Wilson and the autocracy he represents, and all which those who believe in his doctrines and share his spirit represent, must be put aside and conclusively excluded from any future control."

"The defeat of the present administration and all it means transcends in importance every other question and all immediate and dominant issues are bound up with it. Without that defeat the future of the United States and the dignity of the nation before us, so sorely needed now and not later, will depart."

"To maintain law and order and a stable government where justice rules and the rights of all men, high and low, rich and poor, shall be protected, we must have a government of the people, duly chosen by the people, and never must there be permitted any government by a single man or by a group of men, or by an organized minority."

"Many vital economic measures and especially protective tariff legislation to guard our industries, are impossible with a Democratic free trader of socialistic proclivities in the White House. To accomplish such measures as these, we must have, as we intend to have, a Republican president, in sympathy with a Republican House and Senate."

"The roll call will give, however, the first indication as to what the mass of the more than 200 fancy free uninstructed delegates have been thinking as they milled restlessly about the hotel lobbies hour by hour. It will contain information for which all parties to the great dispute have been waiting and letting loose new moves and counter-moves about the men who cast the votes."

It was this situation that gave dark horse talk additional prominence yesterday in the hotel lobbies and with it came an undercurrent from arriving delegations of suggestions that after all, it might be wiser to forward a candidate whose name had not been involved in the Senate inquiry into pre-convention expenditures and activities of presidential aspirants.

Hughes and Coolidge Talked Of.

Again the name of Charles Evans Hughes recurred in these discussions and Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts also was mentioned. Senator Borah said Judge Hughes would be "formidable" if the convention were compelled to seek a dark horse nominee.

The Idaho senator served notice later at Senator Johnson's great mass meeting which was an outstanding convention eve feature and, incidentally, another departure from precedent, that he proposed to carry his argument against the league of nations covenant to the floor of the convention itself.

safety of the United States on the other.

"All Americans must join together in their own way and with their own arguments to defeat Mr. Wilson's league as he desires it, whether amended by him or in its pristine simplicity."

Senator Lodge charged the Democratic party with responsibility for the "perilous conditions of the hour," and said, if the Republican party fails to grasp it effectively, "the Russian descent into barbarism will begin to draw near."

A beginning had been made, he said, by a Republican Congress in restoring economic conditions, "working under all the difficulties and opposition imposed by a hostile executive." He enumerated various beneficial measures, adding that the estimates had been reduced over a billion dollars. He advocated enforcement of the laws against profiteering and said it was possible to check the advance of prices of raw materials by the control of credits in such manner as to give preference to the most essential products. He described the railroad act "as a single great law which in any period would be sufficient to distinguish a Congress as one of high achievement."

CONVENTION LEADERLESS

Ex-Bosses Standing Aside and Watching a "People's Convention"

DELEGATIONS DECIDE ON THEIR COURSES

Situation Presents a Fine
Chance for a Stampede

Chicago, June 8.—Unique in the annals of the party, the Republican national convention assemblies to-day unbossed, unbribed and with no candidate having enough votes in sight to assure his nomination.

It promises to be a record breaker in all respects. It may cast more ballots than any other Republican convention since Garfield was nominated in 1880 before the party standard bearer is named.

There is still such a complete absence of bosses as to leave the convention leaderless. Chiefs, who spoke with authority in the days gone by, are standing on the sidelines, having a chuckle, while the delegates go through the experience of having a "people's convention."

It is true that several score of delegations are instructed either by their state conventions or by state primaries, but nobody, including their own state leaders, knows how long they are going to stand hunched.

The air is choked with reports of delegation conferences at which it has been decided to stand by the favorite son or instructions only on enough ballots to comply with state laws or fulfill the good faith that goes with a primary expression of preference.

For instance, one candidate issues a statement and serves notice that he wants no complimentary or favorite son vote, but wants the real thing with a will to win. Almost at the same moment his state delegation has a meeting and the delegates decide among themselves to give him all the first ballot and split up various ways on the others.

The situation presents an opportunity for some shrewd leader to step forward at the psychological moment and invite a stampede, practical politicians agree that an unled convention is an easy mark for a runaway.

Old Convention Records.

A glance at convention records since Lincoln was nominated in 1860 discloses the unusual prospects for the present one. In those conventions the balloting was as follows:

Year	Nominee	Ballots
1860	Lincoln	3
1864	Lincoln	1
1868	Grant	1
1872	Grant	1
1876	Hayes	7
1880	Garfield	36
1884	Blaine	4
1888	Harrison	8
1896	McKinley	1
1900	McKinley	1
1904	Roosevelt	1
1908	Taft	1
1916	Hughes	1

Overnight reports and rumors from candidates' camps and delegation headquarters shed no light on the situation. A triangular deadlock between Wood, Lowden and Johnson still appeared the almost certain result to the first trial of voting strength Wednesday or Thursday, with probably more than a score of favorite sons, dark horses of individual selections sharing more than half of the total vote.

The roll call will give, however, the first indication as to what the mass of the more than 200 fancy free uninstructed delegates have been thinking as they milled restlessly about the hotel lobbies hour by hour. It will contain information for which all parties to the great dispute have been waiting and letting loose new moves and counter-moves about the men who cast the votes."

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

If you are troubled with back aches, it is a bet that they are caused by weak kidneys; they don't perform their duties, and you should look out, as there is trouble brewing.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, headache, dizzy spells, and it is more than likely to bring on rheumatism.

The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment, your sleep disturbed by being compelled to arise, one or more times during the night, because of the pain, irritation and abnormal condition of the kidneys and bladder.

If you will take from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after meals, you will correct the alkalinity of your secretions, thus giving you undisturbed sleep and peaceful rest, preparing you for your next day's duties.

When the kidneys are not doing their duty they allow impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which will cause serious trouble unless they are driven from your system.

If you eat meat regularly, you should flush the kidneys occasionally with SEVEN BARKS, as meat forms uric acid, which clogs the pores, so they cannot throw off the poisons.

Don't neglect your kidney trouble with the first symptoms, you will be sorry if you do. Get SEVEN-BARKS of your druggist, at a cost of only 60 cents.—Adv.

Hailed by Senator Johnson as "pioneer" of the Senate battle against the covenant, Senator Borah said he did not propose to compromise the treaty issue. Republican and Democratic leaders, he said, were leaning toward such action and Senator Johnson alone of the presidential candidates was not willing to compromise "American independence and sovereignty."

The California senator, presenting his case to an audience largely composed of delegates, declared that "doctrine of humanity and Americanism" he preached was one that he would always preach "without limit or compromise."

There was more talk during the night of the possibility of short cutting convention preliminaries by making the temporary organization with Senator Lodge as chairman, the permanent convention structure. This would save many hours of organizational work, it was argued.

Platform Deliberations.

One effect of such a short cut would be to assist in getting the tentative platform ready for early approval by the convention. Progress already made, particularly with the treaty plank, was said to be highly satisfactory. There still remain points to be worked over and views to be heard, however.

These include platform proposals of the national board of farmers' organizations in behalf of agricultural interests, efforts of "dry" forces to supplement their sweeping victory yesterday before the United States supreme court with a party declaration for rigid enforcement of the law thus upheld, and also the appearance before the resolutions committee of Samuel Gompers, and a committee from the Montreal convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The supreme court's decision had no marked effect in convention circles. Leaders seemed to feel relief that the matter was settled and that it was not now necessary to deal with the issue in the platform. Efforts of the "drys" for a party declaration are designed to put a spoke in the wheel of any movement for future legislation to take light wines and beer off the pre-scribed list.

Timely contributions aided the Women's National party to mobilize 150 "pickets" before the convention opened and threw a cordon of silent, banner-bearing sentries along the front of the coliseum, similar to the patrol before the White House while the suffrage battle was on in Washington. Municipal authorities by direction of Mayor Thompson had announced that the pickets would not be interfered with.

Honest Values in Clothes

We hear a lot nowadays about price-cutting in clothing. Usually the quality was cut before the price was; that's what makes the reductions possible.

Merchandise that was marked at right prices in the first place is seldom bought at "reduced" prices.

A pretty safe way is to buy at a reputable store; select the well-known brands with an established reputation, and you'll be pretty sure of getting a dollar's worth of value for every dollar spent.

Open as usual Monday evenings.

NEEDED TWO PIANOS.

Mechanic Thought Both Daughters
Might Want to Play at Once.

The man who objected to the musicians he had hired following out "an eight-hour rest" has been done one better right here in Wilmington by the man who purchased two pianos as Christmas presents for his two daughters. The man in question is alleged to have gone into a well-known store here and announced his desire to purchase a piano.

A salesman attended to his wants, played a few notes upon one of the instruments and displayed the wares. "Is this the best sort of a piano you have?" asked the would-be purchaser.

He was assured that the instrument was about as fine as one as could be obtained from that company.

Finally, having selected the sort of instrument he wanted, the man pulled out a roll of bills large enough to choke a horse, as they say, and announced: "I will take two." The price of each was several hundred dollars.

The astonished salesman announced the price of the desired two, the amount running close to four figures, and was handed the entire amount in cash.

"Where shall I have them sent?" the salesman asked. The purchaser gave his address. "Do you wish them both sent to the same place?" asked the salesman. The customer announced that he did. "May I asked why you are having two pianos sent to the same address?" asked the clerk.
